

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A modular living enclosure for occupancy by a person comprises a plurality of molded plastic enclosure sections that are assembled to define an enclosure floor, four upright side walls, a top wall and a door opening when assembled, at least one of said enclosure sections being molded to form bathroom fixtures comprising a toilet communicated to a waste disposal for comminuting toilet waste, a washbasin, shower, and a floor drain. The washbasin and the floor drain communicate to a sump chamber disposed on the enclosure and having a sump pump therein.